● ABOUT ME

Third-year medical student at Al-Azhar University and full-stack developer with 5+ years of experience building real products. Co-founded Firecave (a game discovery platform with international users), Also co-founded Zad Al Khayr, a community food redistribution charity Sadat City. My work spans software engineering, design, video editing, community leadership, and public service — and I bring that same cross-disciplinary drive into medicine. Dedicated to continuous learning, structured execution, and high-impact results.

● WORK EXPERIENCE

01/03/2025 - CURRENT

FOUNDER, CEO, & LEAD FULL-STACK ENGINEER FIRECAVE

Built and launched Firecave (firecave.net) from scratch as solo developer and system administrator — a game discovery platform aggregating data from multiple sources . Engineered the full stack using Next.js, Node.js, and PostgreSQL, self-hosted on OVH VPS via Coolify with Cloudflare for security and performance. Manages the entire product lifecycle independently — from database schema and API integration to UI/UX, SEO, and monetization strategy.
